All Roads Lead to Yale Tuesday and Wednesday

Come Awa' an' Meet Your Freens
They'll A' Be Here—Dinna
Forget the Date Maun.

The time is nearly here when the Scotch lads and lassie will don their kilts and strap on the pipes and come to Yale to do honor to the boys who were in the service of their country and helped to make the world safe for democracy. There are only a few of them who reside in Yale and vicinity, but these boys have got together and organized the Frederick W. Hyde Post, American Legion, and it is up to our citizens to give them a little boost financially, and for this purpose the Caledonian Celebration next week has been arranged, and the entire receipts above expenses will be turned over to them.

First and foremost in the two days' doings will be the Scotch entertainment. This year the Bruce Cameron Troupe will be the attraction. This company comes to Yale with the highest recommendations, and we are sure their piping and dancing will please all who attend. With them comes Mrs. Jessie Scott Davies, whose singing pleased our people so well on her previous visits. Miss Irene Whitaker Stephenson, of Detroit, is pianist. Then there will be the work of "Scotty" Duncan, who is one of the very best of the Scotch comedians.

The above troupe is well worth the small admission charged to the park each day, but there is a whole lot more.

One big feature which sets the celebration committee back for a snug little sum, and which by the way is one of the big features at the State Fair this year, is a parachute drop each day from the aeroplane. Arrangements are all made for this event, and it will be worth coming many miles to see. The big passenger carrying aeroplane will be here both days, and is furnished by the Michigan Aero-Service Corporation. Anyone wishing to "go up" can make arrangements to do so.

Tuesday afternoon there will be a base ball game between the Yale City and the Armada teams. This promises to be a fast contest as each team is out to win.

The speaker of the day for Tuesday will be Fr. P. J. Cullinane, of Detroit, former pastor of Sacred Heart parish, Yale. Rev. Cullinane's coming for the day will be hailed with delight by hosts of friends in Yale.

On Wednesday evening there will be a big Scotch concert at City Park. This promises to be the best ever given in Yale. The program will start promptly at 7:30 and the committee in charge of the celebration would like to see a large crowd present.

On Wednesday the Yale City team will again be in the harness, this time playing the fast Watertown bunch. It will be a game worth seeing.

There will be lots of athletics each day, and this part of the program will be started at 11:00 o'clock a. m.

On Wednesday afternoon will occur the presentation of the colors to the Frederick W. Hyde Post, No. 320, American Legion. The Post will also be the recipient of a beautiful Post banner. The colors are presented by Edward Andrae, and the banner by the Hyde family and others. This will be a truly patriotic event, and every citizen of Yale and vicinity should attend.

As the speaker, A. H. Gansser, Commander of Post No. 18, Bay City will be present to make the flag presentation address. Jos. Heberton, commander of the Yale Post received the following letter on Monday:

Bay City, August 27, 1921.
Post Commander,
Yale, Michigan.

Greeting:—

Chaplain L. O. Moody, of Hammond Post, Port Huron, has just asked me to visit your Post and make the flag presentation address for your Post at Yale on Sept. 7th.

Barring unforeseen circumstances shall be there. Will give

MISS FUCHSIA HARKNESS
One of the Talented Dancers With the Cameron Troupe

you ample notice should something unforeseen arise to prevent my coming, and shall provide a good substitute if it becomes necessary and you desire to leave the choice to me.

Wishing you a big day Sept. 7th, congratulating you on having such interested parents and friends, and with best wishes always,
Yours loyally,

A. H. Gansser, Commander
Post No. 18, Bay City.

Col. Gansser was Department Commander of the American Legion in Michigan for 1919-1920, and is considered one of their ablest men and most loyal workers. The committee feels highly complimented in having as good a man as this present, and the city of Yale and surrounding country should turn out in grand style and give him a welcome.

The Yale band will furnish music both days. The boys have been making fine progress this year under the able leadership of Jay Monroe, and their music will make a valuable addition to the big program.

Plan now on coming both days. Make it a family reunion, a picnic or any other kind of an excuse to get to Yale next Tuesday and Wednesday, September 6th and 7th, and show the boys of our American Legion Post that you are with them to the limit.

ANOTHER CANNING PLANT COMING TO OUR CITY

Chas. L. Wagner, of Detroit, was in the city Monday and stated to the Expositor that he and his associates would erect another canning factory in Yale and have it in operation in time to care for the 1922 crop. The proposed new company will contract for 750 acres of peas, 750 acres of corn, 100 acres of lima beans, 500 tons of pumpkin and 25,000 bushels of apples and intend placing vegetables in the surrounding territory. The location of the plant has not been fully decided upon at this writing, but there are a couple of available sites which they have in view.

Besides the Yale plant this company will also operate a fruit plant in the southern part of the state.

Headquarters of the new company will be at 3491 Lincoln ave., Detroit, where Mr. Wagner has recently built a warehouse.

On or about Nov. 1st, Mr. Wagner will be in Yale to contract for 1922 acreage. With this concern these contract crops will be paid for as follows:—Peas, Sept. 15th; corn and beans, Nov. 15th; pumpkin and apples, Jan. 1st.

Regarding the new industry we will say, if it will give employment to more people in the city and make conditions better for our farmer friends, we will welcome it to our midst.

FATAL ACCIDENT

The 5-year-old son of Roland Woodruff, Speaker township, fell from a motor truck striking on his head, Friday, August 19, and died Monday morning, Aug. 29th, from meningitis.

The little fellow's mother died four years ago. He and his father have made their home with the grandmother, Mrs. E. Woodruff, ever since.

Funeral services were held from the home of the grandmother and burial took place in Speaker cemetery, Rev. White, of Peck, officiating.

Friends and neighbors sympathize with the bereaved in their sorrow.

GOES TO SAGINAW

Rev. D. W. Ryan, pastor of the Methodist Protestant churches at Yale and Cole appointments, for the past two years has been transferred to the pastorate of the Stephens Street Methodist Protestant church, Saginaw, just off Michigan avenue. The parsonage is at 515 Stephens street, which will be the postoffice address of Rev. Ryan.

During Mr. Ryan's residence in Yale he has made many friends, all of whom wish him God speed in his new home.

OSTRANDER REUNION

Among the first settlers of St. Clair county was the family of George and Sarah Ostrander, who lived on their farm 3 miles north of Capac, now owned by Henry Kampa. The parents and three children are now dead, but twenty-five of the remaining members of this family gathered at Gladwin, Mich., in a reunion on Aug. 28th. The hospitable home of R. M. Morris, was opened wide for this occasion, which was very delightful. Dinner was both sumptuous and delicious. Table decorations were in red and green and very cleverly arranged. Music, laughter and much visiting continued to make it a time long to be remembered.

Those present were the host and his wife, Vernie Oliver Morris, daughters Nina and Lucile, Mrs. Hugh Oliver, daughters June and Fern, of Beaverton, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ostrander and children Martin and Neva, of Yale, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Steinhoff and sons, Hiram and Bert, of Melvin, Mrs. Ella Randall, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Helberg and children, Norene and Arthur, N. Hodges, Armada, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Ostrander and daughter Mable, of Chicago, Mrs. Arthur Patch, of Orlando, Florida.

MENNONITE CAMPMEETING

The annual camp meeting of the Mennonite Brethren in Christ church, which is being held in the City Park, is largely attended. There are about one hundred tents on the ground, with nearly 500 regular campers and more are expected.

The heavy rain Saturday evening kept many from coming on Sunday by auto, but the large tabernacle, which seats nearly 1,200 was filled.

Rev. J. A. Huffman, of Bluffton, Ohio, is the principal speaker. His sermons are interesting, helpful and timely. The home talent is also giving good service.

Rev. J. Hygema, of Fort Wayne Ind., and W. S. Hotle, of Chicago, are expected to be present during the latter part of the camp.

Services will continue until Sunday evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the meetings.

Sheriff Charles McGuinness this week has raided two more Hungarian homes and found a still and a quantity of liquor in each. In the Mahlon Bigger farm, Buell township, a man by the name of Swalsburg was found doing a thriving business, and at the home of one Frink, in the German row at Crosswell another outfit for the making of "hootch" was captured along with a quantity of real joy producing liquid.—Peck Times.

The Board of Education have made room twelve into a comfortable recitation room for the departmental grades. Desks have been added to room two of the high school which will be used as a second assembly. It is now as good as the large assembly room for study and storage of books. The high school assembly room has been redecorated. It is expected that the additional seats added to the second assembly will give sufficient capacity to take care of our non-resident students nicely.

The tuition in the high school for the coming year $60.00. This is all paid by the district from which the high school student comes, since the state legislature recently passed a law to the effect that any district not having a high school shall pay tuition up to and including $60 of any student attending any high school.

FARM BUREAU PICNIC

About 3,500 people attended the first annual Farm Bureau picnic held at the county park north of Forester last Friday, August 26. Hon. Louis C. Cramton, our congressman, James Nichol, President of the Michigan State Farm Bureau, and Miss Elba Morse, county nurse, were the principal speakers. Mr. Cramton discussed in length the great need of economical appropriations. The farmers were greatly interested in what Mr. Nichol had to say of the great developments of the Michigan State Farm Bureau both from the financial and business standpoint. The information as given out by Miss Morse about the great need for the betterment of child welfare in this county attracted much attention.

Much interest was created among the members of the different farm bureau locals as to who would obtain the prizes offered by the largest attendance. This brought out about 650 automobiles from different parts of the county, with Crosswell in the lead, represented by about 100 autos. The awarding of the second prize has been left to a committee for decision, for Minden City, Deckerville, Carsonville, Sandusky and Snover were also in large attendance.

Games and sports made up the morning program, with music furnished by the Lexington band and a community picnic dinner was enjoyed at noon. The day was brought to a close by a ball game between the northern half of the county and the southern half, which was won by the members representing the south half.

WARNING!

Beware of the oily, smooth-tongued salesmen who are in our city and community at the present time offering stock which paid fabulous rates of interest. They work our city until they can't find any more suckers, then they go out in the country for our farmer friends, taking their notes which must be paid someday. Get your banker's advice before you invest in these wild-cat schemes.

Every paid-up subscription to the Expositor helps keep the paper alive.
